

PLANNING PROJECTS

The Shockey approach to planning is to bring the right people together, educate them regarding the various options and bring them to consensus. The result is a plan that communities believe in and implement.